What's your Style?

No matter if you're building a new home or renovating your current home, interior spaces should evoke a feeling of comfort; an oasis that you can retreat to. There are three emerging design styles which bring texture, luxury and warmth to Australian interior spaces: Biophilic Design, Japandi, and Sustainable Design.

Biophilic Design

Biophilic Design is a style that incorporates nature into the home to create calm and soothing spaces. Designers focus on natural materials such as stone, timber, plants and other natural elements.

Japandi Fusion

Japandi is a fusion of Scandinavian and Japanese design - uniting both styles, to create a serene, ordered and balanced living space. The focus is on a warmer, muted colour palette, organic and natural materials with an emphasis on natural lighting, compared to eternally popular Scandi which often features cooler, lighter tones.

Sustainable Design

As sustainability takes centre-stage, eco-friendly interior design is becoming increasingly popular. Australians are embracing recycled and upcycled furniture, sustainable materials, and energy-efficient appliances. From reclaimed wood furniture to energy-saving lighting options, there's a growing emphasis on creating environmentally conscious and socially responsible living spaces.
